Rankings are determined using a weighted formula that includes academic performance, college readiness, teacher quality, diversity, culture and safety, and parent and student satisfaction. The result is a transparent, data-driven assessment designed to give families a clear picture of school quality.

Green Fields' #1 ranking is the product of measurable academic success and an educational model that prioritizes both rigor and individual development. The school's strong performance across key metrics, including high academic ratings, exceptional college preparation outcomes, and positive student and parent reviews, demonstrates a consistent standard of excellence. The emphasis on leadership and civic engagement ensures that graduates leave not only academically prepared but also socially conscious and confident.

Importantly, Niche's ranking also incorporates direct feedback from families and students.
