/EINPresswire.com/ -- N-iX, a global software engineering company, with 2,400+ specialists across Europe, the Americas, and APAC, has announced that its near-term science-based climate targets have been validated by the Science Based Targets initiative (SBTi). The validation, received in July 2025, is detailed in the company's newly published ESG Report 2025.

SBTi confirmed that the company's Scope 1 and Scope 2 reduction plans align with a 1.5°C climate trajectory. The company's Scope 3 target of 87.1%, exceeds the standard pathway requirements of 37.8% by a significant margin.

N-iX commits to maintaining zero absolute Scope 1 greenhouse gas emissions from 2020 through 2029 and reducing Scope 2 emissions by 37.8% by 2029, compared to its 2020 baseline. Since 2020, the company has already reduced Scope 3 emissions by more than 80%, driven by supply chain optimization and reduced business travel.

“Sustainability at N-iX is built into how we operate and how our clients evaluate us as a partner,” said Sviatoslav Kavetskyi, Director of Industry Affairs at N-iX. “The SBTi validation confirms our targets are credible, not aspirational.
