Tour Schedule

"This tour is about connection," said Sister Esme. "We've spent years building community online and through our farm. Now we're bringing that energy directly into the dispensaries — meeting customers face-to-face and showing them who we are."

The tour comes as the Sisters expand their footprint in California's licensed cannabis market, positioning the brand for broader retail distribution and future national visibility. Members of the press are welcome to attend. Interviews and photo opportunities are available upon request. To learn more about the Sisters, visit their online library.
