Senior Designer Rachel Simpson Shares Stress-Reducing Home Tips and 2026 Design Trends.

TAMPA, FL, UNITED STATES, February 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Revive Design and Renovation, a leader in home remodeling, was recently featured on Great Day Live, with Senior Designer Rachel Simpson offering expert insights for viewers on creating calm, organized, and stylish spaces.

During the segment, Rachel discussed how everyday clutter can contribute to stress in the home. "All we do is bring stuff in our homes. We're constantly bringing things in. When are we taking things out?" she explained. Rachel highlighted the importance of organization, noting, "When something doesn't have a home, it ends up on your countertops, in the middle of your space, where you need to cook, do homework, or just relax. Having everything in its proper place sets you up for success."

Rachel also shared a recent renovation project for a world-renowned chef, demonstrating how a tailored design and strategic storage solutions can maximize even compact spaces. "It was all about what she needed, what appliances were necessary, and where to store everything," Rachel said. "Each drawer, every appliance, even refrigerator and freezer drawers in the island were thoughtfully considered. It's all about maximizing the space and tailoring it to the person."

For homeowners looking for simpler solutions, Rachel emphasized the importance of assessing what's truly needed and making intentional design choices: "You need to have designated zones and areas, as well as organization within your cabinets, within your closets, things need to have a home."

Looking ahead, Rachel also shared 2026 design trends, focusing on quality and authenticity.

“2025 was all about white oak cabinetry and Taj Mahal. In 2026, it’s about going deeper, bolder tones, real and raw materials, and being intentional. Clients want quality. They don’t want fake anymore. The word of 2026 is quality,” said Rachel.
