Household employers shouldn't have to become tax experts just to hire a nanny. We remove complexity from employer registration through ongoing payroll and tax compliance."

Linda Stone, Founder, Savvy Nanny Payroll Services

Services announced today that it has expanded its service offering to include nationwide employer account setup support for household employers. The new onboarding assistance includes guidance with federal Employer Identification Number (EIN) applications and state tax account registration in all 50 states.

Many household employers get stuck at the very first step — registering for EINs and state tax accounts. Registration requirements vary by state and often create confusion for families hiring a nanny or caregiver for the first time.

Savvy Nanny Payroll Services now provides full onboarding support nationwide, including:

- Federal EIN application guidance
- State tax account registration assistance in all 50 states
- Application for state tax account numbers on behalf of clients where permitted
- Concierge-style guidance in states where employer participation is required

"Compliance shouldn't be confusing," said Linda Stone, founder of Savvy Nanny Payroll Services. "Families hiring household employees often encounter a patchwork of federal and state requirements before payroll even begins. Our goal is to remove friction at the very beginning of the process and continue that support throughout the life of employment."

The expanded onboarding support ties into Savvy Nanny Payroll's broader full-service compliance model. In addition to employer account setup, the company provides:

- Tax impoundment each payroll cycle, preventing large quarterly lump-sum payments

- Automatic federal and state tax payments on behalf of clients
- ACH direct deposit through secure banking networks
- Multi-state tax filing support
- Flexible employee payment options
- Extended phone and chat support across time zones, six days per week

Through its per-payroll tax impoundment system, payroll taxes are set aside each payroll cycle so funds are available when tax payments are due. Federal and state tax payments are then remitted on behalf of clients, eliminating the need for families to track and submit quarterly payments themselves.

Savvy Nanny Payroll Services supports household employers in all 50 states and provides multi-state filing capabilities for families who relocate or employ workers across state lines. Clients may choose their preferred employee payment method, including direct deposit via secure ACH banking networks.

Household employment compliance requires attention to federal withholding requirements, unemployment insurance registration, state income tax rules, and quarterly reporting obligations. By integrating employer registration support with ongoing payroll processing and tax management, Savvy Nanny Payroll Services provides a structured compliance solution tailored specifically to household employers.
