

Arambula Terrazas PLLC: The Solution Experts

Arambula Terrazas PLLC delivers creative, high-stakes advocacy for individuals and businesses facing complex legal challenges in litigation and on appeal.

AUSTIN, TX, UNITED STATES, March 3, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- "We're focused on helping clients with sophisticated matters of commercial law," says attorney Kevin Terrazas, founder and partner at Arambula Terrazas PLLC. "We've represented clients in almost every imaginable venue, from local justice of the peace courts to the United States Supreme Court. What we really do, however, is help people resolve problems. We're solution experts."

Arambula Terrazas PLLC Team

Based in Austin, Texas, Arambula Terrazas PLLC has earned a national reputation for representing clients in "bet the company" trials and appeals. These are complex cases, often involving multiple jurisdictions and legal questions that have never been examined, let alone resolved, by the courts. Millions of dollars may be on the line, as well as professional reputations that took decades to establish. It is in this area of the law that Arambula Terrazas PLLC truly shines.

"Many other law firms won't even take on these matters," Kevin says. "These businesses are fighting for their lives, and they need a creative and smart firm that also won't break the bank. Everyone at this firm enjoys the challenge these cases present, and we've developed the skills and experience required to handle them."

Rising to the challenge is nothing new for Kevin. An honors graduate of West Point and Harvard Law School, he is one of fewer than 50 attorneys in Texas who is board certified in both civil trial and civil appellate law. He is a true team player, having made it his mission to build the firm around the most capable and dedicated attorneys he could find.

"Our firm is passionate about the law, and we have a team-focused culture," Kevin says. "We all come from different backgrounds, and we draw from a lot of different experiences and skill sets. This combination allows us to solve some of the most complex problems and provide our clients with the best possible representation."

Not surprisingly, the exceptional quality of the firm's work has been recognized by legal industry groups like Chambers and Partners, Thomson Reuters, Corporate LiveWire, and many others. While the awards are nice, Kevin notes, his team is more focused on achieving the best possible results for the firm's clients.

"We're not big celebrators here," he says. "We celebrate getting satisfaction for the client, not accolades."

It is this dedication to delivering successful outcomes for clients, not solely courtroom victories that truly defines Arambula Terrazas PLLC. While the firm is prepared to argue its clients' cases, Kevin notes, the focus is always on finding the best method for achieving their larger goals.

"One of our firm's biggest wins was technically a loss," says Kevin. "Our client was facing millions of dollars in claims. Through some procedural and substantive arguments and maneuvering, we were able to reduce that liability to almost nothing. The other side "won" the hearing, but the award was only $80,000, wiping away over $3 million. It was a huge win for our client. This is just an example of how others may focus on winning, but we're here to help our clients accomplish their goals.

"It's our job to understand the substance of their case and to find creative and efficient ways to resolve their problems," Kevin concludes. "Whatever needs they have, they're in good hands."
