CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, March 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Nordic Ware has always understood that the best kitchens are built around tools that work beautifully together. Now, the brand is expanding its Scandinavian-inspired Cardamom collection beyond the stovetop and into the oven, introducing ceramic-coated cast aluminum bakeware that completes the line in both performance and design.

Cardamom — named for one of the world’s most versatile spices — is rooted in Nordic Ware’s Scandinavian heritage. Its signature fresh green exterior blends modern simplicity with natural warmth, creating cookware designed for healthy meals, everyday rituals, and moments meant to be shared. With the addition of bakeware, Cardamom becomes a fully cohesive system.

Crafted in Nordic Ware’s Minneapolis factory, the new Cardamom bakeware is made from premium cast aluminum — a material the brand has long championed for its superior baking performance. Cast aluminum heats quickly and evenly, eliminating hot spots and ensuring consistent results whether you’re baking a simple weeknight dinner or a show-stopping dessert. It’s also renowned for its ability to capture crisp, defined details — delivering professional-quality finishes that elevate everything from quick breads to celebration cakes.

Inside, each piece features a premium double-layer ceramic nonstick coating made without PFAS, PTFE, or PFOA. Derived from minerals and sand, this more natural non-stick surface provides exceptional food release, impressive stain resistance, and effortless cleanup — all without hazardous chemicals.
