

RRJ Quality Construction Corp. Expands Remodeling Services to Mountain View, Gilroy, and Campbell

Santa Clara, California – RRJ Quality Construction Corp. announces the expansion of its residential remodeling services to include the cities of Mountain View, Gilroy, and Campbell. This expansion increases the company's service footprint within Santa Clara County, focusing on specialized kitchen and bathroom renovations alongside general home improvement projects that require professional structural and cosmetic updates.

RRJ Quality Construction Corp. is a licensed residential construction company based in Santa Clara, California, that manages interior renovation projects for local homeowners. The firm specializes in the technical requirements of kitchen and bathroom systems including plumbing alignment, electrical updates, and structural integrity. RRJ in the news highlights the company's recent efforts to provide these specialized construction services to a wider range of residential property owners throughout the region.

From kitchen updates to full-scale bathroom renovations, RRJ Quality Construction Corp. provides home improvement solutions in Santa Clara County and surrounding areas. Key advantages include:

Kitchen Renovation Specialized Services

The company performs kitchen remodeling options that incorporate the installation of custom cabinetry, stone countertops, and stainless steel sink fixtures. Projects involve the removal of existing materials followed by the integration of new electrical wiring for under-cabinet lighting and updated appliance outlets.

Bathroom Modernization and Upgrades

Crews execute bathroom remodeling by installing walk-in showers, ceramic floor tiling, and new vanity units with integrated plumbing. These updates address common residential issues such as water damage, outdated piping, and inefficient use of floor space in master and guest bathrooms.

Regional Service Expansion

The expansion into Mountain View, Gilroy, and Campbell provides RRJ Quality Construction Services the capacity to deploy local project managers to these specific South Bay and South County areas. This logistical growth places residential renovation teams closer to project sites for scheduled interior construction work in these three municipalities.

General Interior Remodeling

General remodeling services cover a broad range of interior modifications including drywall installation, interior painting, and the replacement of baseboards or crown molding. Property owners can access maintenance guides and project updates through the company blog to assist with long-term home care planning.

Homeowners in Mountain View, Gilroy, and Campbell can contact the company to discuss specific project requirements for upcoming home renovations. The firm offers consultations to evaluate existing residential structures and provides detailed estimates for kitchen, bathroom, and general remodeling work. Scheduling for new projects is currently open for residents across the expanded service territory in Santa Clara County.
