Cincinnati's water quality is well documented. We use that information, along with our experience, to install reliable systems that fit the needs of each household - nothing more, nothing less.”

“Cincinnati's water quality is well documented,” said Mike Noschang, founder of Ohio Valley Pure Water. “We use that information, along with our experience, to install reliable systems that fit the needs of each household - nothing more, nothing less.”

Ohio Valley Pure Water specializes in professionally installed water softeners, reverse osmosis systems, and whole-house filtration systems. The company stands behind the systems they install and focuses on long-term relationships with the families they serve.

Over the years, that commitment has translated into an exceptional reputation across Greater Cincinnati. Ohio Valley Pure Water maintains a perfect 5-star rating on Google with more than 650 reviews - that's more 5-star reviews than any other local water treatment provider. The company has also been recognized as a "Best of Cincinnati" award winner and was voted a neighborhood favorite on Nextdoor.

But for the family behind the business, the real measure of success isn't awards - it's the trust of local homeowners.

"We're proud of the recognition, but what matters most is when customers call us years later to help their kids or neighbors. That's what tells us we're doing something right."

As a family-owned and operated company, Ohio Valley Pure Water continues to serve Cincinnati with the same values it was built on in 1988: integrity, reliability, and treating customers like part of their family.
