

AEU's Mike Adams Appointed to Shipbuilders Council of America Partners Committee

MOBILE, AL, UNITED STATES, March 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The American Equity Underwriters, Inc., the leading provider of workers' compensation insurance for waterfront employers, is pleased to announce that Mike Adams, Executive Vice President and Managing Director, has been appointed to the Shipbuilders Council of America Partners Committee. The Partners Committee represents the Council's shipyard supplier and partner members and helps strengthen engagement across the shipbuilding industrial base.

"A strong shipbuilding industry supports a stronger maritime economy, and that work depends on serious collaboration across shipyards, suppliers, and the broader waterfront community," said Win Thurber, Chief Commercial Officer of AEU. "Mike brings steady leadership and deep industry knowledge to this role, and we are proud to see him represent AEU alongside the Shipbuilders Council of America and its members."

Adams has been with AEU since 1995 and has served in leadership roles spanning finance, underwriting, and sales. In his current role, he helps guide AEU's strategic direction and supports relationships across the maritime industry.

About the Shipbuilders Council of America

The Shipbuilders Council of America is the national trade association for the U.S. shipyard industry. Its mission is to support and promote the American shipyard industry, including shipbuilders, ship repairers, and the associated supplier base, by providing strategic information and expertise and advocating on their behalf before Congress, the Executive Branch, and media.
