

Logistics Plus Continues Support of U.S. Navy Under WEXMAC 2.0 Contract

As a prime contractor, Logistics Plus delivers critical global support services to U.S. government agencies.

ERIE, PA, UNITED STATES, March 10, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Logistics Plus, Inc. (LP), a global leader in transportation, logistics, and unique supply chain solutions, is proud to announce the continuation of its role as a prime contractor under the U.S. Navy's WEXMAC 2.0 (Worldwide Expeditionary Multiple Award Contract). The renewed contract term spans eight (8) years and authorizes Logistics Plus to provide a broad range of global support services to U.S. government agencies.

Most recently, Logistics Plus successfully completed a complex mission in Japan in support of Commander Submarine Forces Pacific (COMSUBPAC), CTF-77/MCMGRU7, and Commander Mine Assembly Group. Services performed in support of the mission included:

We are honored to continue serving alongside the men and women of the U.S. military under the WEXMAC 2.0 contract.”

- Interpreter Services – providing professional communication support in a demanding operational environment.
- Logistics and Transportation Services – delivering end-to-end coordination and execution of critical supply chain requirements.
- Contracted Vessel Operations – providing loading, transport, deployment, and recovery of inert mine training assets in direct support of future mine training and exercises.

The WEXMAC program is designed to ensure that logistics is never the limiting factor in the decision-making of U.S. military commanders and senior leaders. As a WEXMAC prime contractor, Logistics Plus supports mission-critical operations across the globe — in any clime and place.

The U.S. Navy's contracting office recognized the performance and dedication of WEXMAC contractors, noting that their contributions in heavily contested environments and on critical missions "transform federal procurement and project strength across the world." The recognition underscores Logistics Plus's sustained high confidence level of mission success under the program.

"We are honored to continue serving alongside the men and women of the U.S. military under the WEXMAC 2.0 contract," said Blaine Kurtz, Director of Military & Public Sector Programs at Logistics Plus. "Our team takes great pride in supporting these vital operations, and this renewed partnership reflects our long-term commitment to delivering excellence in the most demanding environments in the world."
