

DESIGN COMPONENTS, INC. TO EXHIBIT AT THE 57TH ANNUAL MBCEA CONFERENCE IN COLORADO SPRINGS

Design Components, Inc. joins top metal building professionals at the 57th Annual MBCEA Conference to highlight innovative component solutions.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, March 11, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Design Components, Inc.(DCI), a manufacturer of high-performance metal building accessories for commercial construction, will exhibit at the 57th Annual MBCEA Conference, April 22–24, 2026, in Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Hosted by the Metal Building Contractors & Erectors Association, the conference convenes contractors, manufacturers, and suppliers from across the country to discuss innovations and best practices in metal building systems.

At the event, Design Components will showcase engineered solutions that enhance building performance, safety, and durability, including roof curbs, ventilation systems, fall protection and access systems, and the Metalwalk Rooftop Walkway System, which protects roof membranes and provides defined, safe service pathways.

“MBCEA is an excellent opportunity to connect with industry partners who value quality and technical performance,” said a DCI company spokesperson.

Attendees are invited to visit the Design Components exhibit to speak with technical representatives and learn more about the company’s latest solutions.
