

Nexdata to Unveil Next-Gen ADAS Data Solutions at Tech.AD Europe 2026

Nexdata, a leading global provider of high-quality AI training data, today announced its participation as a Business Partner at Tech.AD Europe 2026.

GERMANY, March 20, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- Nexdata, a leading global provider of high-quality AI training data, today announced its participation as a Business Partner at Tech.AD Europe 2026. From March 23–24, Nexdata will showcase its advanced data solutions designed to accelerate the development of ADAS and AV.

As the industry advances toward Level 3 and Level 4 autonomy, the focus has shifted to the precision of Ground Truth (GT) data. At Booth #9, Nexdata will demonstrate how its AI-assisted annotation platform and multi-sensor fusion capabilities provide the high-fidelity data foundation needed for safety-critical vehicle perception.

Innovation Spotlight: Expert Presentation

Vicky Xu, Senior Key Account Manager at Nexdata, will present: "Driving Intelligence – How Next-Gen Annotation Fuels Autonomous Vehicles"

The session will explore how Nexdata’s Human-in-the-Loop (HITL) workflows and semi-automatic labeling pipelines enhance efficiency by 3-4 times while maintaining over 97% accuracy.

"High-quality datasets are the cornerstone of ADAS innovation," says Vicky Xu. "We are committed to providing the scalable, high-precision data infrastructure that helps our partners move from R&D to mass production with confidence."
