GREENWICH, CT, UNITED STATES, March 31, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

Payarc, a partner-first payments platform built to help software providers and businesses grow, announced a new integration with BreederCloudPro, a comprehensive management software for animal breeders. Through this integration, breeders using BreederCloudPro can now accept secure payments directly within the platform, simplifying transactions while keeping operations fully centralized.

BreederCloudPro, known for improving how breeders manage their operations, selected Payarc to power its embedded payment experience. The integration enables breeders to accept payments for pet sales, services, and related products without leaving the platform they rely on to manage their business.

"By simplifying the payment process, we're not just enhancing convenience but also building trust and efficiency in our platform," said Daron Goode, CEO of BreederCloudPro. "This partnership with Payarc allows us to offer our users an all-in-one solution that integrates the best payment technology directly into our software."

By embedding Payarc's payment infrastructure directly into BreederCloudPro, breeders gain a secure and streamlined way to manage both operations and payments in one place. This removes the friction of managing separate payment systems and helps breeders run their businesses more efficiently while maintaining a professional customer experience.
