

ReviewTailor Debuts AI-Powered Career Companion Platform to Give Professionals Greater Visibility Into Career Growth

Career Companion introduces the Career Intelligence Score™ to help professionals measure career leverage, track accomplishments, and advance intentionally.

ATLANTA, GA, UNITED STATES, April 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ --

ReviewTailor today announced the official launch of Career Companion, an AI-powered platform designed to give professionals clarity, structure, and strategy for managing their careers. At the heart of the platform is the Career Intelligence Score (CIS)™, a first-of-its kind metric for measuring career leverage and tracking career momentum. While people track nearly every aspect of their lives, from fitness to finances, there has never been a clear, measurable way to understand and grow their career leverage. The Career Intelligence Score™ helps professionals track accomplishments, identify growth gaps, and understand the actions they can take to strengthen their trajectory and achieve their next career milestone.

structured and measurable.” Career Companion was born from seeing employees struggle to understand how to grow, managers struggle to provide meaningful guidance, and organizations demand more performance and clarity without always providing the tools to support it. Bias, unclear expectations, and inconsistent feedback often make career advancement unpredictable, a problem Career Companion aims to address.
