We are proud to offer a single platform and API that seamlessly integrates planning, execution and visibility with advanced AI.”

Greg Price, CEO and Co-Founder

“Shipwell is redefining the industry standard for AI-driven supply chains. We are proud to offer a single platform and API that seamlessly integrates planning, execution and visibility with advanced AI,” said Greg Price, CEO and Co-Founder of Shipwell. “This unified approach reflects our relentless commitment to delivering innovative solutions that drive measurable impact for our customers.”

Serving the Market with Enterprise-Grade Solutions

Shipwell's TMS unites traditional transportation management with advanced visibility and workflow automation, purpose-built for shippers in the food and beverage, manufacturing, oil & gas, consumer products industries and more. The intuitive platform takes on logistics challenges like streamlining shipment costs and providing real-time insights, so teams can operate more efficiently in today's shifting logistics market. By centralizing these capabilities, Shipwell equips shippers to save time, reduce costs, and gain the clarity needed to make smarter decisions across their freight operations.

AI tools, including the Track & Trace AI Worker and In-App AI Assistant, mark a baseline shift from standard automation to intelligent, autonomous decision-making. These solutions help reclaim up to 70% of manual tracking time and reduce track-and-trace email management by as much as 90%, allowing teams to focus on higher-value work and deliver better service to their customers.

Proven ROI and Customer Success

Our focus on delivering tangible business outcomes fueled significant growth in 2025. The company achieved over 30% year-over-year revenue growth while managing 107% more freight spend and processing 55% more monthly shipments for our customers, compared to 2024.

"Sustained investment in research and technology enables us to anticipate and meet our customers' evolving needs," continues Price. "Our team's commitment to execution has fueled strong growth in both customer adoption and revenue. This year, we're focused on delivering even more value by expanding our platform with new capabilities—such as AI Workers for Settlement and Logistics Planning, enhanced RFP automation, a more intuitive dock scheduling experience, and broader integrations with our partner ecosystem. These enhancements are all about helping our customers streamline operations, boost productivity, and stay ahead in a shifting supply chain environment."
