

QABA Strengthens Connections with ABA Professionals in India

Global ABA credentialing board visits universities, centers, and hosts networking events to strengthen ties with Indian professionals

OGDEN, UT, UNITED STATES, April 1, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- As part of its ongoing international outreach, The Qualified Applied Behavior Analysis Credentialing Board (QABA®) recently traveled to India to meet with professionals across the country's growing Applied Behavior Analysis (ABA) community. The visit brought QABA representatives to universities, training centers, and networking events, with discussions centered on international credentialing standards and expanding access to ABA certification in India.

The enthusiasm and dedication of ABA professionals in India are truly inspiring. These visits reinforced the importance of collaboration and international exchange in advancing ABA practices globally.”

Bonnie Camilotes

QABA representative Bonnie Camilotes, joined by Dr. Geetika Agarwal, member of QABA's International Development Committee, visited Manipal Academy of Higher Education, home to India's first university-level ABA course. The delegation also toured SNEHASADAN College of Special Education, connecting with faculty and students pursuing careers in the field.

Throughout the visit, Camilotes and Dr. Agarwal toured multiple ABA centers across India, meeting with local professionals to discuss QABA credentials and share insights on international standards and professional pathways in behavior analysis. These conversations highlighted the growing interest in ABA in schools in India and clinical settings, as well as the demand for internationally recognized credentialing options.

To further strengthen professional connections, QABA hosted a special dinner and high tea with local educators and practitioners. These gatherings provided a platform for sharing ideas, discussing developments in the field, and expanding QABA's international community of ABA professionals.

"The enthusiasm and dedication of ABA professionals in India are truly inspiring," said Camilotes. "These visits reinforced the importance of collaboration and international exchange in advancing ABA practices globally."

For Indian professionals interested in pursuing internationally recognized credentials, QABA provides three pathways: the ABAT® for technicians, the QASP-S® for supervisors, and the QBA® for qualified behavior analysts. With exams available in multiple languages and online proctoring available around the clock, ABA certification in India is increasingly accessible to practitioners nationwide.
