the busiest Permanent Change of Station (PCS) season in years, Bigfella Auto Express is reinforcing its commitment to service members, veterans, and their families. The nationwide vehicle shipping leader today announced the continuation and promotion of its $75 Military Discount across all branches, a move designed to alleviate financial pressure during what is predicted to be a challenging summer for military relocations.

The discount, prominently featured on Military.com, comes at a critical time. The auto transport industry is currently experiencing a convergence of pressures: rising fuel costs, a persistent shortage of qualified carriers, and a surge in demand as thousands of service members execute PCS orders between May and September. This "perfect storm" has led to increased shipping rates and booking delays, creating anxiety for military families who already face the logistical complexity of a cross-country move.

"PCS season is never easy, but in today's market, the stress of moving a vehicle can add a significant financial and logistical burden," said a spokesperson for Bigfella Auto Express. "Our mission is to cut through that noise. We're not just offering a discount; we're providing a reliable, white-glove service that understands the unique urgency and flexibility required by military life. We want families to know that no matter where their orders take them, their vehicle transport is one thing they can count on."

The Bigfella Auto Express discount is available to active-duty members, retirees, reservists, National Guard members, and dependents. The company facilitates nationwide vehicle shipping through a vetted network of carriers, emphasizing safety, timeliness, and transparent communication—a critical need highlighted by recent reports of PCS moving scams and unreliable brokers.

A Commitment Forged by Understanding

Unlike general auto transport brokers, Bigfella Auto Express has structured its operations to cater specifically to the unpredictable nature of military life. The company's team is well-versed in the nuances of PCS orders, deployment timelines, and the need for flexible pick-up and delivery windows.

This dedicated approach aligns with a growing trend in the logistics sector: specialized services for high-volume, high-stakes customer groups. As the Department of Defense continues to modernize its own moving systems, private partners like Bigfella Auto Express are filling a crucial gap by providing dependable, customer-centric alternatives that prioritize service member well-being.

How to Access the Discount

Service members and their families can easily access the $75 discount by visiting the Bigfella Auto Express listing on Military.com or by requesting a quote directly and mentioning the "Military.com $75 OFF" offer. The discount applies to all nationwide vehicle transport services.

About Bigfella Auto Express

Bigfella Auto Express is a premier nationwide auto transport company dedicated to delivering safe, reliable, and stress-free vehicle shipping solutions. With a focus on transparency, communication, and customer service, the company has built a reputation for excellence, particularly within the military and veteran communities.
