

B2B Vault podcast continues growth following top rankings in 2025

Business podcast expands reach, addressing key issues and emerging trends

FORT LAUDERDALE, FL, UNITED STATES, April 16, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- B2B Vault: The Biz to Biz Podcast, hosted by Allen Kopelman, co-founder and CEO of Nationwide Payment Systems, achieved significant industry recognition in 2025, earning top rankings and expanding its national reach among business and entrepreneurship podcasts.

The podcast broke into the Top 100 on Apple Podcasts in the Entrepreneurship category, marking a major milestone for the rapidly growing show and reinforcing its position as a trusted resource for business owners and operators.

In addition to its chart performance, B2B Vault gained national visibility through syndicated media coverage distributed across more than 350 U.S. news publications, further strengthening its credibility and audience reach.

Business owners don't need generic advice. They need real-world insight they can actually apply, whether it's improving cash flow, managing risk or scaling their operations.”

“B2B Vault was built to share real conversations from real operators,” Kopelman said. “This recognition isn't just about rankings — it's about helping business owners learn from each other and make smarter decisions.”

Launched to bridge the gap between complex financial technology and real-world business operations, the podcast features candid discussions with founders, executives and industry experts across payments, fintech, SaaS, marketing and leadership.

Throughout 2025, episodes focused on topics that directly impact business performance, including payment modernization, compliance, POS systems, cash flow management and chargeback risk. The show has been recognized as a leading voice in payment technology and fintech education.

Unlike traditional business podcasts, B2B Vault emphasizes practical, operator-level insights over theory, drawing on Kopelman's decades of experience in payments and financial technology.

"Business owners don't need generic advice," Kopelman said. "They need real-world insight they can actually apply — whether that's improving cash flow, managing risk or scaling their operations."

The podcast continues to evolve with new episodes exploring emerging challenges and opportunities facing businesses in today's economy, including fraud prevention, automation, AI and financial infrastructure strategy.

As audience demand grows, B2B Vault remains focused on delivering content that reflects the real concerns of business owners — from navigating regulatory complexity to improving operational efficiency.

Hosted by Kopelman, the podcast is available on Apple Podcasts, Spotify, YouTube and other major platforms, with new episodes released regularly.
