

Dayton Medical Assistant School to Introduce 18-Week Training Program in Vandalia This Spring

Dayton Medical Assistant School will open this spring in Vandalia, offering an 18-week, hands-on medical assistant program.

DAYTON, OH, UNITED STATES, April 7, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- A new healthcare career pathway is coming to the Dayton region this spring as Dayton Medical Assistant School prepares to open its Vandalia campus at 270 James Bohanan Dr.

"Students entering healthcare benefit from training that reflects what they'll experience on the job," said Chris Lofton, CEO of Zollege. "Our Dayton-area program is designed to give them that exposure while keeping education efficient and accessible."

The program will offer an extended 18-week medical assistant curriculum, designed to give students additional time to build both clinical and administrative skills through hands-on experience. The structure combines flexible online learning with in-person lab work and real-world training inside a functioning medical practice.

Students will gain practical experience through a partnership with Radiant Health DPC, a direct primary care provider focused on accessible, patient-centered services. This collaboration allows students to engage in everyday clinical workflows, including patient intake, vital sign measurement, documentation, and support for routine procedures.

The Vandalia campus is positioned to serve students throughout the Miami Valley who are seeking a faster route into healthcare without sacrificing real-world preparation. Graduates will be equipped to pursue certification and entry-level roles in clinics, physician offices, and outpatient care settings.

Enrollment for the spring cohort is now open here.
