Announced North American Date on the Tour.*

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, April 7,
2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- [Ideali
Projects](#) — a global entertainment company — brings Chinese hip-hop icon GAI (Zhou Yan) to Las Vegas for the very first time. For one night only at Dolby Live at Park MGM on Saturday, April 11, 2026, this marks the sole announced North American stop on the GAI EVOLUTION 2026 WORLD TOUR Overseas Chapter, featuring special guest Bridge, one of the most compelling voices in Chinese rap, making this an essential night for fans of both artists and for anyone with a pulse on hip-hop's global future.

Before going global, GAI EVOLUTION already rewrote the playbook at home. From 2024 to 2025, the tour delivered ten consecutive sold-out arena performances — then went further, staging Chinese rap's first-ever 360-degree stadium concert, with every ticket claimed within seconds of release. This was a record-breaking moment and ushered in Chinese hip-hop's "Stadium Era."

GAI's live performances are in a category of their own. Fans describe the experience as "a blaze-and-shock that stays in your DNA" — and the statistics back it up. Thunderous hip-hop intensity fused with raw emotional storytelling, powerhouse vocals, high-impact visuals, and a zero-distance surge of crowd energy combine to create something that transcends the traditional concert format.

The setlist draws from GAI's full catalog — classics, anthems, and tear-jerking ballads, tracing the full arc of an artist who has moved from boundary-pushing pioneer to era-defining standard-bearer — without ever losing the sincerity that built his following.

GAI EVOLUTION is more than a concert tour. It is a declaration — bringing a fully realized "New Chinese-style Rap" aesthetic system, rooted in Chinese cultural DNA, to the international stage at its highest standard. At Dolby Live at Park MGM, one of Las Vegas' most prestigious live music venues, April 11 represents a landmark moment for Chinese hip-hop's place on the global cultural map.

For Ideali Projects, it is an intentional moment to deliver this cultural momentum to North America. Hip-hop, since its inception in the United States, has grown into a global phenomenon — reshaped, reinterpreted, and re-energized by international artists. GAI represents one of the most compelling expressions of this journey in the East, building a distinctly Eastern voice within one of the most globally popular music genres. Bringing GAI to Las Vegas is about spotlighting how far hip-hop has traveled, and where it's going next.

It is exactly what Ideali Projects were built for — bridging worlds, commanding stages, and bringing the culture to where it's never been before.

This event is presented by Ideali Projects, in association with D.M.G Music, Vism, and GCM.
