

Scofield Group Launches Agent Launch Scholarship Program in Las Vegas

Scofield Group introduces a structured 45-day scholarship program to train, license, and launch new real estate agents into a high-performance production system

LAS VEGAS, NV, UNITED STATES, April 8, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Scofield Group, a leading Las Vegas real estate team known for high-performance systems and agent development, today announced the launch of its Agent Launch Scholarship Program, designed to identify, train, and develop the next generation of real estate professionals.

Scofield Group Agent Launch Scholarship

The program provides a structured pathway for individuals seeking to enter the real estate industry with the support, training, and accountability required to succeed at a high level from day one.

“

This is for people who want a real opportunity, not just a license—we provide the system, structure, and accountability to turn ambition into production”

Kirby Scofield

Unlike traditional entry paths into real estate, the Scofield Group’s scholarship program is built around execution, not theory—combining pre-licensing education, daily accountability, and real-world application within a high-producing environment.

Program Overview

The Agent Launch Scholarship includes:

- Full access to a deluxe real estate pre-licensing course
- Structured weekly progress tracking and accountability check-ins
- Daily in-classroom or guided learning requirements until course completion

A clearly defined 45-day completion timeline

Direct onboarding into The Scofield Group upon successful licensing

Participants are not only trained to pass the licensing exam, but also prepared to operate within a production-driven real estate business immediately upon completion.

Candidate Requirements

To ensure program effectiveness and commitment, applicants must meet the following criteria:

Age 20–50

Minimum of three months of living expenses saved (proof required)

No criminal record

Access to a vehicle, smartphone, and laptop

Ability to work full-time in real estate upon completion

Willingness to follow structured systems and accountability standards

Applicants selected for the program will be expected to maintain strict adherence to timelines, participation requirements, and performance expectations throughout the 45-day training period.

Performance-Based Commitment

The scholarship is designed for individuals serious about building a real estate career—not casual participants. To maintain program integrity:

Upon successful completion and licensing, participants will transition directly into The Scofield Group's production environment, where they will be required to meet minimum performance standards and continue operating within the team's structured system.

Building the Next Generation of Producers

The Scofield Group has built its reputation on production, accountability, and measurable results. The Agent Launch Scholarship reflects the company's commitment to developing talent internally while maintaining the same performance standards that drive its existing agents.

"This program is designed for individuals who want a real opportunity—not just a license," said Kirby Scofield, Team Leader of The Scofield Group. "We are building producers, not participants. If someone is willing to commit, we will provide the system, structure, and environment to succeed."
