Lisa Anderson, President LMA Consulting Group

Anderson was included among leading Supply Chain and Operations Strategists, reflecting her impact on helping manufacturers navigate increasing complexity, volatility and change.

“Manufacturing is undergoing a significant transformation driven by technology, data and evolving global dynamics,” said Anderson. “It is an honor to be recognized among leaders who are contributing practical insights and helping manufacturers build stronger, more resilient and more agile operations.”

Practical, Results-Driven Supply Chain Leadership

Consult Clarity's selection criteria emphasize real-world experience, actionable insights and consistent contributions to advancing the industry. The 2026 list highlights leaders who are actively helping manufacturers rethink operations, challenge conventional approaches and implement strategies that deliver measurable results.

As founder of LMA Consulting Group, Anderson specializes in end-to-end supply chain transformation, manufacturing strategy and operational improvements. She is known for her practical approach to helping manufacturers and distributors maximize value through supply chain optimization, strategic planning and performance improvement initiatives.

Anderson is also ranked #16 on the SAP Supply Chain Influencers list and is recognized among the top one percent of consultants worldwide, further underscoring her influence in the global manufacturing and supply chain community.

Advancing the Future of Manufacturing

According to Consult Clarity, the manufacturing sector is experiencing one of its most significant periods of transformation in decades, driven by advancements in artificial intelligence, smart factory technologies, digital integration and sustainability initiatives.

Anderson's thought leadership focuses on helping companies translate these trends into actionable strategies.

"Manufacturers do not need more theory; they need practical, executable strategies," Anderson said. "Whether it is strengthening supply chain resilience, improving planning and operational performance or leveraging technology and data for better decision-making, the focus must always be on driving results."

Through her work, Anderson frequently implements processes such as SIOP (Sales, Inventory & Operations Planning), ERP optimization and the use of advanced technologies and artificial intelligence to improve decision-making and business performance.
