“The launch of the Noble Technology Awards marks a deliberate step toward recognizing a new standard of technological excellence on a global scale,” said Thomas Brandt, Spokesperson of the International Awards Associate (IAA). “In its first year, we are already seeing work that reflects not just innovation, but technologies designed to solve real challenges, scale effectively, and create lasting impact.”

2026 Noble Technology Awards S2 Open for Submissions

Judging Process and Evaluation Integrity

Entries for the 2026 Noble Technology Awards were evaluated through a structured, criteria-driven process assessing innovation, leadership impact, execution, scalability, and industry contribution. The evaluation distinguishes between individual achievements and organizational performance, ensuring each submission is judged within its proper context and based on real-world impact.

2026 Season 2 Calling for Entries

Following a strong inaugural season, the Noble Technology Awards will return with its Season 2 competition, continuing to recognize technological achievements that demonstrate both innovation and real-world impact.

With participation expected to expand across regions and sectors, the program invites forward-thinking individuals and organizations to take advantage of Early Bird entries before the deadline on May 14, with entries being accepted until August 13. The complete results will be announced on October 16.
