marking its 100th anniversary this year with a commemorative celebration at Navy Pier in Chicago. Fox Valley Plumbing & Backflow, a licensed plumbing contractor serving the Fox Valley region since 2010, earned A+ Accreditation from the bureau ahead of that milestone — one of a limited number of Illinois plumbing companies to hold the designation.

The accreditation requires businesses to meet the BBB's standards for transparency, responsiveness to customer complaints, and honest advertising practices. Fox Valley Plumbing holds an A+ rating with zero complaints on file.

"We deliver A+ service to our customers every time," said Matt Moraca, Owner of Fox Valley Plumbing & Backflow. "Show up on time. Give an honest price before the work starts. Do the job right."

Fox Valley Plumbing serves residential and commercial customers across Elgin, South Elgin, Bartlett, Streamwood, Schaumburg, Naperville, St. Charles, Geneva, Hanover Park, Carol Stream, and 30+ additional communities in Kane, Cook, and DuPage counties. The company holds an Illinois Master Plumber license (#058-161084) and Plumbing Contractor license (#055-042593).

The company is one of the few plumbing contractors in the Fox Valley area with dedicated backflow testing and certification capability. Backflow prevention is a public health compliance requirement — municipal water systems require annual testing by a licensed professional to prevent contaminated water from flowing back into the public supply.

Fox Valley Plumbing has 125+ Google reviews averaging 4.8 stars.
