

LFAA at Penn State: Nation's Premier Alumni IFC Hits 31-Chapter Milestone

Strengthening the bonds of the Penn State Greek community through unprecedented alumni engagement and strategic oversight.

STATE COLLEGE, PA, UNITED STATES, April 14, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Lion Fraternity Alumni Association (LFAA), the nation's premier independent Alumni IFC, is proud to announce it has reached a record-breaking milestone of 31 member fraternity alumni corporations.

When alumni are organized as a formal Alumni IFC, the entire university ecosystem wins. We aren't just looking back at our history; we are actively engineering the future of fraternity life.”

Jim Edwards, LFAA President

Since its reformation in 2013, the LFAA has functioned as a trailblazing "Alumni IFC," dedicated to the advocacy, oversight, and elevation of the Greek Life experience at Penn State. This record membership cements the LFAA's position as the national gold standard for alumni-led Greek governance. The association's success is currently being used as a blueprint by the University of Maryland and other major institutions seeking to replicate the "Penn State Model" of structured alumni engagement.

"Reaching 30 member organizations is a testament to the unwavering commitment Penn State alumni have toward a safer, more enriching Greek community," said LFAA President Jim Edwards. "We are proving that when alumni are organized as a formal Alumni IFC, the entire university ecosystem wins. We aren't just looking back at our history; we are actively engineering the future of fraternity life."

Empowering the Future through Professional Stewardship

As an Alumni IFC, the LFAA serves as a vital bridge between the heritage of Penn State's Greek system and its modern evolution. The organization provides a unified voice for alumni, ensuring that fraternity life remains a sustainable cornerstone of the Penn State experience through:

- Advisory Excellence: Providing robust peer support systems and resources for chapter advisors.

- Housing Corporation Stewardship: Sharing industry best practices in property management, safety protocols, and long-term financial sustainability.
- Educational Programming: Hosting seminars that translate foundational fraternal values into modern leadership skills for undergraduate officers.
- Community Engagement: Fostering healthy competition and pride, such as the annual Christmas Lights Competition, where LFAA members judge lighting displays for chapters across both the Penn State IFC and the State College IFC.

Investing in Academic Excellence

The LFAA's impact extends directly into the classroom. The association recently awarded academic scholarships to several deserving undergraduate members who demonstrated exceptional leadership and commitment to their chapters. By delivering these scholarship checks, the LFAA reinforces its mission: ensuring the fraternity experience serves as a lifelong foundation for professional and academic success.

A National Blueprint for Success

The LFAA remains one of the few independent, collaborative Alumni IFCs in the United States. Its unique structure—providing accountability while maintaining independence—has drawn significant national attention. By fostering a culture of transparency, the LFAA continues to advocate for a Greek Life experience that prioritizes student well-being while upholding the cherished traditions of the Nittany Lion spirit.

About the Lion Fraternity Alumni Association (LFAA):

The LFAA is a volunteer-led Alumni IFC representing the interests of Penn State fraternity alumni. Its mission is to advocate for the Greek community, provide educational resources to housing corporations and advisors, and support the undergraduate experience through scholarships, mentorship, and safety initiatives.
