Adesso Unveils iMouse A50: The Next-Generation Ergonomic Mouse Featuring Integrated Copilot AI Hotkey

WALNUT, CA, UNITED STATES, April 29, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Adesso, a leading manufacturer of computer peripherals and professional input devices, today announced the launch of the Adesso iMouse A50. This innovative dual-mode wireless ergonomic mouse is designed to bridge the gap between traditional productivity and the new era of Artificial Intelligence, featuring a dedicated Copilot AI hotkey for instant assistant access.

The Adesso iMouse A50 is engineered for users who demand both comfort and advanced functionality. By integrating a physical Copilot button directly onto the hardware, Adesso provides users with a seamless gateway to AI-driven workflows, allowing for immediate generation of content, technical support, and task management.

Key Features of the Adesso iMouse A50 include:

- Integrated Copilot AI Hotkey: A dedicated button provides one-touch access to Microsoft's AI assistant, streamlining tasks such as writing assistance, weather updates, and product recommendations.
- Dual-Mode Wireless Connectivity: Users can choose between Bluetooth or 2.4GHz RF wireless (via an included USB-A receiver), offering flexibility across multiple devices and operating systems.
- Ergonomic Design: Built for long-term comfort, the mouse features an ergonomic contour that reduces wrist strain during extended use.
- Adjustable DPI Resolution: The optical sensor offers three levels of sensitivity (800 / 1200 /
