MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, April 15, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Founder of American Special Investigative Group (ASIG) delivers real-world insights drawn from high-profile investigations, intelligence operations, and complex global cases.

As organizations and individuals face increasing exposure to insider threats, corporate fraud, blackmail, and complex investigative challenges, demand continues to rise for trusted, high-level investigative expertise. Toby Braun, widely regarded as one of the nation's most sought-after private investigators, is expanding his speaking engagements to deliver real-world insights on high-stakes investigations, insider threats, and blackmail and extortion.

Braun is the Founder and Managing Partner of American Special Investigative Group (ASIG), a private intelligence and professional investigations firm retained by attorneys, corporate leadership, family offices, ultra-high-net-worth individuals, and organizations across the United States and internationally. The firm is known for handling complex, high-profile, and legally sensitive matters where discretion, speed, and strategic execution are critical.

Recognized for his work in high-stakes and high-profile investigations, Braun leads intelligence-driven engagements spanning blackmail and extortion cases, insider threat and executive betrayal matters, complex asset tracing including cryptocurrency, due diligence, litigation intelligence and pre-litigation strategy support, undercover operations, undercover and surveillance operations conducted in support of complex investigations, and cross-border investigative matters. His work is frequently sought in situations involving significant financial exposure, reputational risk, and matters where conventional investigative approaches are insufficient.

In addition to his private-sector work, Braun has led investigations and recovery efforts involving trafficked American children and has operated in coordination with law enforcement and specialized teams in high-risk environments. This experience provides rare, behind-the-scenes insight into how human trafficking networks operate, how individuals are exploited, and how complex investigations are developed, executed, and resolved in real-world conditions.

Through keynote presentations, executive briefings, and private engagements, Braun translates this experience into actionable intelligence for corporate leaders, law firms, and organizations navigating risk, uncertainty, and exposure. His speaking topics include high-stakes investigations, insider threats, blackmail and extortion risk and response, litigation intelligence, undercover operations, and operating in environments where decisions must be made with incomplete information and real-world consequences.

Braun's work has positioned him among a select group of elite private investigators trusted for high-profile and complex matters. He is frequently engaged by clients seeking a proven investigative authority capable of delivering results in sensitive, time-critical situations.

"As insider threats and blackmail cases become more sophisticated, organizations are often unprepared for how quickly these situations escalate," said Braun. "The ability to obtain reliable intelligence and act decisively is what ultimately determines the outcome."

A frequent national media analyst, Braun has appeared on major platforms including Fox News and ABC, and is a contributor to Forbes, where he provides insight on criminal investigations, corporate fraud, insider threats, human trafficking operations, and high-profile cases.

With increasing demand for both investigative services and expert-led briefings, Braun continues to expand his availability for keynote speaking engagements, executive intelligence briefings, and select advisory roles.
