We're excited to welcome both new and returning patients into the Bellevue office. It's a beautiful new chapter for our team, and we're very happy to share it.”

Mark H. Tseng, MD

“This move is a very special moment for our practice,” said Mark H. Tseng, MD, aesthetic plastic surgeon and founder of Tseng Plastic Surgery. “We wanted to create a space that feels polished, comfortable, and welcoming from the moment patients walk in. Our new Bellevue office gives us the opportunity to care for patients in a setting that better reflects the experience we want them to have.”

Why The Move Is Important

The new Bellevue plastic surgery location gives Tseng Plastic Surgery a more spacious and elegant environment for consultations, treatment planning, and aesthetic care. Designed to feel private, calm, and refined, the office supports the practice's continued growth while making the patient experience feel more seamless at every step. The move also places the practice in a central Eastside location that is convenient for patients seeking surgical and non-surgical care in Bellevue and nearby communities.

A Setting Designed Around Comfort And Care

The Bellevue office was selected with patient experience in mind. The new space allows the team to welcome patients into a setting that feels elevated without losing the warmth and personal attention the practice is known for. From the first consultation through follow-up care, Tseng Plastic Surgery is set out to provide thoughtful treatment, clear communication, and beautiful results delivered in an environment that feels supportive and discreet.

A Growing Practice With An Eye On What Patients Need

Tseng Plastic Surgery serves patients seeking facial procedures like a facelift, breast, and body procedures, like Mommy Makeover, along with a full menu of non-surgical aesthetic treatments, and hair restoration options. As the practice has grown, so has the need for a location that better matches its level of service and the expectations of its patients. The Bellevue move reflects that next step while preserving the practice's core approach—careful planning, refined technique, and a patient relationship built on trust.

“We’re excited to welcome both new and returning patients into the Bellevue office,” Dr. Tseng added. “It’s a beautiful new chapter for our team, and we’re very happy to share it.”
