

Classic Elegance Meets Modern Strength: Introducing Architent Heritage

Herculite® introduces Architent® Heritage®, a USA-made translucent vinyl tent fabric combining sailcloth style with superior strength and durability.

PA, UNITED STATES, May 1, 2026
/EINPresswire.com/ -- Emigsville, PA:
Herculite Products, Inc. is announcing the launch of its latest innovation in premium tent fabric solutions, Architent® Heritage®. Proudly made in the USA, this 14-ounce, highly translucent, engineered vinyl tent fabric features an extreme matte finish that protects guests from the elements while letting light pass through and reducing glare, enhancing the ambiance for evening events.

Architent Heritage blends the timeless aesthetic of traditional sailcloth with the performance benefits of modern vinyl technology. The result is a fabric that delivers superior water resistance, UV protection, and exceptional tear strength—ensuring reliability across a wide range of outdoor environments.

Heritage also features the antimicrobial surface protection inherent in Architent products, protecting the fabric surface against mold, mildew, and other biological growth. In addition to its robust construction, Architent Heritage is designed for ease of use. Its manageable handling characteristics make setup, breakdown, and transportation efficient and repeatable, helping event professionals save time and labor.
