

YWO to Launch New Digital Affiliate Program in May

Three payout models. One platform. A structured approach for affiliate partnerships .

COMOROS, April 17, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- YWO, a multi-licensed broker focused on trading services and partnership development, today announced that its new Digital Affiliate Program is scheduled to launch in May 2026.

Built for trading education group admins, trading signals channel owners, key opinion leaders (KOLs), influencers, marketing specialists, and performance affiliates. The upcoming program is designed to present the partnership model in a clear and structured format from the first click. With a transparent structure and defined earning logic, the new Digital Affiliate Program will allow partners to identify the model that fits their audience, traffic type, and growth strategy.

At launch, the program will introduce three payout models under one platform, giving affiliates more flexibility in how they monetize referrals. Instead of forcing every partner into the same structure, YWO has developed a model built around fit, clarity, and potential.

Beyond the Ordinary

The new Digital Affiliate Program will be centered on three core pillars:

Three distinct payout models tailored to different affiliate types.

Defined earning visibility with simplified payout logic.

A regulated partner environment built for structured and ongoing partner engagement .

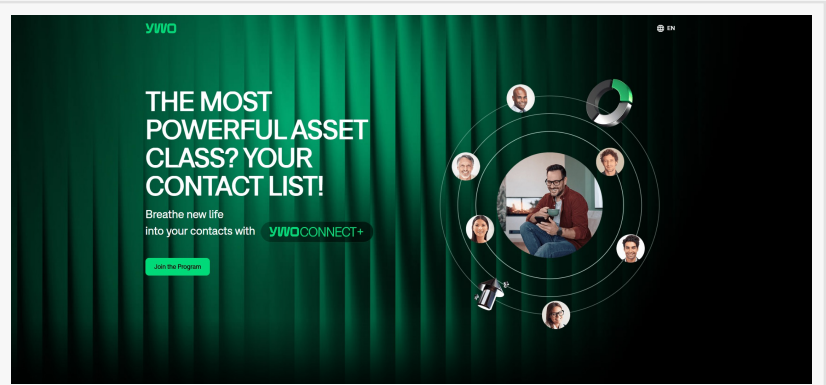

As part of the rollout, YWO will also introduce a simplified affiliate experience that presents key information prominently. . Prospective partners will be able to understand what the program is, how it works, and potential earnings scenarios quickly , while deeper details remain available for those who want them.

A built-in monthly potential calculator will also be included, allowing affiliates to estimate monthly and annual earnings based on referral volume and selected program type. The goal is to support informed decision-making , within a simplified process

“We wanted to create an Digital Affiliate Program that feels structured, transparent, and genuinely useful from the beginning,” said Daniel Abdel Malak, Head of Marketing at YWO. “Too often, affiliates are presented with complexity before they understand the opportunity. This launch is about changing that. We are introducing a clearer framework that assists partners see where they fit and how they can potentially grow with us.”

The upcoming program will also highlight the strength of the wider YWO trading environment behind the partnership. Affiliates will be able to promote a platform built around MT5 access, broad market coverage, straightforward funding and withdrawals, execution infrastructure , and a trading experience designed to support both conversion and client retention.

With partner growth across 7 regions. Subject to jurisdictional restrictions and servicing entity limitations, YWO’s new Digital Affiliate Program is being positioned as a global opportunity with a
