

Bail Bonds Now Offers 24/7 Miami-Dade County Bond Eligibility Review as Families Navigate Changing Release Procedures

Bail Bonds Now is highlighting its 24/7 Miami-Dade County bond eligibility review service as families seek answers about what happens after an arrest.

MIAMI, FL, UNITED STATES, April 20, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- After recent updates to Miami-Dade County's release procedures, Bail Bonds Now is highlighting its 24/7 Miami-Dade bond eligibility review service as families seek answers about what happens after an arrest.

Bail Bonds Now Serving Miami Dade County

In 2025, the Eleventh Judicial Circuit amended its administrative order governing the uniform bond schedule and pretrial release procedures for criminal proceedings in Miami-Dade County.

“

Our goal is to give [families] a clearer starting point, any time of day, by speaking with a local agent.”

Peter Hill, CEO of Bail Bonds Now.

The order notes that Florida law creates a presumption in favor of pretrial release on non monetary conditions in many cases, while also identifying circumstances in which defendants may not receive bond before first appearance.

Florida's statewide bond structure has also changed in recent years. The Florida Supreme Court's uniform statewide bond schedule took effect on Jan. 1, 2024, while still allowing chief judges to adopt local schedules with added conditions or higher bond amounts where appropriate. In practice, that means families in Miami-Dade may still face case-by-case differences depending on the charge, local procedure, and court review.

For those dealing with the aftermath of an arrest, understanding and deciding on next steps can be confusing. Bail Bonds Now said its 24/7 Miami-Dade bond eligibility review is designed to help families get quicker answers during the first hours after an arrest. The most important information is usually understanding whether the detained party may be eligible for release, whether first appearance may be required, what information is needed, and how quickly the process may move. In Miami-Dade, people may be released in several ways, including commercial bail, release on recognizance, promised-to-appear release, and pretrial services.

“Families are often trying to make sense of the process in real time,” said Peter Hill, CEO at Bail Bonds Now. “They want to know whether release may be possible, whether a hearing may come first, and what they should be prepared for. Our goal is to give them a clearer starting point, any time of day, by speaking with a local agent.”

bail bonds now logo

The review is intended to provide an early understanding of whether a case may be bondable, whether additional court review may be required, and what details may be needed to move forward. Bail Bonds Now said the purpose of the 24/7 review is not to replace legal advice, but to help families better understand the release process early and avoid unnecessary confusion at a time when clear information matters most.

About Bail Bonds Now

Bail Bonds Now has served Florida families since 2012, offering statewide bail bonds and support through a network of local agents and online tools designed to simplify the release process. Headquartered in West Palm Beach and active in markets across Florida including Miami-Dade County Bail Bonds Now provides 24/7 assistance, online bond applications, and flexible payment options to help families move quickly when timing matters. Bail Bonds Now also publishes educational resources to help clients understand bond types, inmate search, and other common questions that come up after an arrest.

Peter Hill

Bail Bonds Now

+1 561 500 9999

email us here

Visit us on social media:

Instagram

Facebook

This press release can be viewed online at: <https://www.einpresswire.com/article/906312683>

EIN Presswire's priority is source transparency. We do not allow opaque clients, and our editors try to be careful about weeding out false and misleading content. As a user, if you see something we have missed, please do bring it to our attention. Your help is welcome. EIN Presswire, Everyone's Internet News Presswire™, tries to define some of the boundaries that are reasonable in today's world. Please see our Editorial Guidelines for more information.

© 1995-2026 Newsmatics Inc. All Right Reserved.