

Center for Family Services of Palm Beach County Appoints New Chief Development Officer

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, April 22, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Center for Family Services of Palm Beach County, a nonprofit behavioral healthcare organization dedicated to improving the lives of individuals, children, and families announces the appointment of Lyndsey McMillan as Chief Development Officer.

In this role, Lyndsey provides strategic leadership for all fundraising, donor engagement, and external relations initiatives, ensuring the long-term sustainability and growth of the organization's mission.

With 15 years of experience across multiple roles in the behavioral healthcare industry, Lyndsey brings a comprehensive, systematic approach to nonprofit work. Throughout her career, she has been instrumental in building meaningful relationships with donors, community leaders, and stakeholders, translating shared values into sustainable support and measurable impact. Her collaborative leadership style and strong rapport-building skills enable her to align organizational priorities with the passions of supporters, ensuring long-term growth and stability. She works closely with the executive team and board of directors to align philanthropic strategies with programmatic priorities that expand access to premier behavioral healthcare services.

As a mother, Lyndsey's professional commitment is deeply personal. Her lived experience reinforces her dedication to ensuring that children and families have access to timely, highest quality mental health services and the support systems they need to thrive. This perspective informs her advocacy, strategic vision, and unwavering belief in early intervention and family-centered care. On her spare time, Lyndsey supports her local church serving in the children's ministry rooms.

Commenting on her appointment, Todd L'Herrou, Chief Executive Officer said, ""I'm delighted to welcome Lyndsey to our organization. She brings a rare blend of collaborative spirit, positive energy, and a heart for service that aligns perfectly with our values and our vision for mental wellness in our community."
