EPIXODE previews his Highlife era with "Juli Juli"

Produced by award winning Producer/Engineer Gomez Beatx at Humbler Recording Studios in Accra, "JULI JULI" features a smooth Highlife foundation infused with contemporary influences creating a blend which is both nostalgic and innovative. Gomez Beatx' deep knowledge of Ghanaian traditional rhythms such as Kundum, Bamaya, and Kpanlogo helps to create a rich and rhythmic soundscape that compliments the song.

Set in Jamestown, Accra the song sung in both English and Ga tells a nuanced narrative of "street love" exploring themes of loyalty and passion. With hints of a "gun love story," EPIXODE combines intensity and tenderness, offering a unique perspective on romance from the streets. "JULI JULI" transcends a simple love song, portraying a vivid cinematic portrayal of a profound connection between lovers. Utilizing his unique wordplay, EPIXODE encapsulates a relationship characterized by an intuitive understanding making it both authentic and relatable.

The Ga have been very instrumental in shaping the Ghana sound. It's a song that could bridge The E.T. Mensah and Amah Pineras. This is Highlife with a swag that all generations can appreciate.”
