Built for both new and experienced agents, All Access brings together training, carrier resources, and operational tools into one platform—eliminating the need to navigate multiple systems and allowing agents to stay focused on growth.

All Access was built to give agents a centralized environment where they can access training, tools, and resources while staying focused on serving clients and increasing production.”

Joe Gannon, CEO of BenaVest

BenaVest supports a nationwide network of agents with access to ACA Marketplace plans, Medicare coverage, life insurance, annuities, dental, vision, and supplemental products. Through All Access, agents can manage enrollments, improve retention, and identify cross-selling opportunities while strengthening their overall production strategy.

“For agents looking to grow, having the right infrastructure and support system makes all the difference,” said Joe Gannon, CEO of BenaVest. “All Access was built to give agents a centralized environment where they can access training, tools, and resources while staying focused on serving clients and increasing production.”

The platform includes structured training through InsureUniversity, giving agents access to ongoing education, product training, and practical strategies they can apply immediately. Combined with dedicated broker support and carrier resources, agents are equipped with the tools needed to confidently expand across multiple product lines.

All Access also supports long-term growth by helping agents stay connected with their clients year-round, improving retention and creating more opportunities to offer additional coverage. By simplifying workflows and reducing administrative friction, agents can focus more time on building relationships and closing business.

BenaVest continues to position itself as a growth-focused FMO by providing agents with nationwide contracting opportunities, comprehensive training, and a support system designed to help them scale efficiently.
