

Gray Tools Supports Skilled Trades with Tool Donation to St. Augustine School

Advanced master set donated to automotive program supporting the program's recent revival and rapid growth.

BRAMPTON, ONTARIO, CANADA, May 4, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Gray Tools, Canada's only domestically headquartered hand tool company, has donated an Advanced Master Tool Set to the automotive program at St. Augustine Secondary School, supporting the program's recent revival and rapid growth.

The donation includes a 42-inch roller cabinet filled with more than 350 Dynamic-branded tools stored in foam tray organizers, providing students with access to professional-grade equipment that mirrors what they will encounter in the workforce. The included foam organizers ensure tools are returned to their proper location after each class reducing loss and engraining ideal end of day workplace habits.

Just two years ago, St. Augustine's automotive program had been shuttered. Under the leadership of teacher Giovanni Rossi and Principal Sophia Maloney, the program was successfully reintroduced with one small class in its first semester. Today, just over a year later, enrollment has expanded to multiple classes with more than 20 students in each, reflecting growing interest in skilled trades education.

"We are grateful to Gray Tools for their generous donation of tools and equipment that enhance our students' learning experience," said Sophia Maloney, St. Augustine Principal.

"Programs like St. Augustine's are critical to addressing the growing skilled labor shortage across Canada," says Dragos Baicoianu, Marketing Manager, Brand and Digital. "As the country works toward ambitious nation-building objectives, investing in trades education is more important
