

New Initiative Empowers Cancer Patients with Early Detection and Integrative Support

Beat Cancer Foundation Launches Patient-Centered Initiative to Empower Individuals with Advanced Education, Integrative Support, and Early Cancer Detection

SAN DIEGO, CA, UNITED STATES, May 6, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- The Beat Cancer Foundation today announced an expanded initiative designed to empower cancer patients with critical knowledge, integrative strategies, and access to cutting-edge early detection technology. Centered around what the organization calls the “Eight Questions Doctors Aren’t Asking — But Should,” this initiative challenges conventional care models by equipping patients with tools to better understand and influence their health outcomes.

The Beat Cancer Foundation focuses on educating patients about foundational biological and metabolic factors that influence cancer progression. Through personalized guidance, the organization helps individuals explore strategies aimed at improving immune function, optimizing internal health environments, and enhancing overall quality of life.

Knowing all your treatment options could be life-saving!”
David A. Caravantes

The Eight Questions Driving a New Approach to Cancer Support Include:

- Would you consider a proven approach to help slow cancer progression and expand treatment options?
- Would you take steps to strengthen your immune system through gut health optimization, where a significant portion of immune activity resides?

- Would you explore how to shift your body's internal environment to make it less supportive of cancer growth?
- Would you be open to increasing oxygenation throughout the body to create conditions less favorable for cancer survival?
- Would you want to learn how to reduce cancer's access to its primary fuel sources?
- Would you consider evidence surrounding repurposed medications and their potential role in cancer care?
- Would you explore breathwork techniques to support oxygenation, stress reduction, and emotional well-being?
- Would you be willing to make targeted lifestyle and dietary changes to support a healing environment?

"This framework is about empowering patients with knowledge and options," said David A. Caravantes, Executive Director of the Beat Cancer Foundation. "When individuals understand the variables that influence cancer, they can take a more active role in their journey."

In addition, the Beat Cancer Foundation has partnered with OncoSure Testing to introduce OncoSure™, an advanced cancer screening technology designed to detect cancers at their earliest, pre-symptomatic stages through a simple blood draw. Results are delivered within 24 hours after the laboratory receives the specimen.

"Prevention and early detection are our best weapons against cancer," Caravantes added. "By partnering with OncoSure Testing to deliver OncoSure™, we're working to expand access to fast, comprehensive screening. Detecting cancer before symptoms appear gives people the opportunity to act earlier and improve outcomes."

Beyond detection, the Foundation supports patients in understanding metabolic treatment approaches, including the role of non-toxic, repurposed medications and integrative therapies. The goal is to enhance quality of life while providing supportive, evidence-informed options patients can discuss with their healthcare providers.

The Beat Cancer Foundation offers free consultations to individuals diagnosed with cancer, providing guidance, education, and support tailored to each person's situation.
