The POWER AGENT® Program is designed to help agents increase listings, strengthen communication, navigate complex conversations, and build sustainable, relationship-driven businesses. Through a combination of live coaching and training, on-demand learning sessions, customizable business tools, and real-world strategies, the program equips agents with practical skills they can apply immediately in today's market.

“We are honored to align with LeadingRE and support its incredible global network of professionals,” said Darryl Davis. “This collaboration is about giving agents the clarity, structure, and conversations they need to not just compete, but to truly serve at their highest level and grow their business with confidence and consistency.”

The program's impact is already being felt by agents within the network.

“Darryl is simply amazing,” said Melanie Dittmayer with LeadingRE member Baliesteri Real Estate. “It’s a different approach than any other training I’ve experienced. It makes you rethink your understanding of the profession, your communication, and how you guide your clients. After just a few webinars, I’ve already learned so much—and I’ll absolutely continue.”

Unlike traditional training models, the POWER AGENT® Program emphasizes real-world application, helping agents move beyond information and into consistent execution. From lead generation systems to client communication strategies, the program focuses on building skills that translate directly into more listings, improved buyer loyalty, stronger relationships, and long-term business growth.

“Darryl’s approach resonates deeply because it’s grounded in how agents actually work and communicate every day,” said Jessica Edgerton, LeadingRE CLO and EVP of industry learning. “He brings clarity to complex conversations and helps agents elevate their role as trusted advisors. We’re excited to offer this level of training to our members around the world.”

Through the Solutions Group program, LeadingRE identifies and aligns with best-in-class partners that bring meaningful value to its members. The addition of the POWER AGENT® Program reinforces LeadingRE’s commitment to providing its network with innovative tools, resources, and education that support agent success at every level.
