The New Jersey State Investment Council is responsible for establishing investment policies and providing oversight for the State's public pension and retirement funds, working in consultation with the Division of Investment to support prudent, long-term stewardship of these assets.

DiPiero brings decades of institutional investment and fiduciary experience to the Council. He founded Newport Capital Group as a single-family office and has since grown the firm into a nationally recognized investment advisory organization serving institutions, foundations, endowments, affluent families, business owners, and executives. As a trusted advisor and peer, DiPiero is known for helping clients navigate the complexities of generational wealth while providing guidance on significant life decisions aligned with their long-term interests.

"It's truly an honor to serve on the New Jersey State Investment Council," said DiPiero. "I don't take lightly the responsibility of helping protect the life savings of New Jersey's public employees and retirees. I look forward to working closely with my fellow Council members to steward these assets with care, integrity, and a long-term perspective."

Under his leadership, Newport Capital Group has earned numerous industry accolades, including recognition from Barron's, Pensions & Investments, and Financial Advisor Magazine in 2025.

In addition to his role at Newport, DiPiero currently serves on the boards of Drexel University and Hackensack Meridian Health as Treasurer, where he chairs both Investment Committees. He is also Chairman of The Two River Times Foundation. His prior leadership experience includes advisory roles with Villanova University and Salve Regina University, and service as a director of GulfMark Offshore prior to its acquisition by Tidewater Inc. DiPiero previously served as a gubernatorial appointee to the New Jersey State Police Retirement System Board and is an active member of Young Presidents' Organization.
