(GTC), a curated portfolio of premium tabletop brands, will return to the National Restaurant Association Show for its second year, taking place May 16–19, 2026, at McCormick Place in Chicago. Attendees are invited to visit an expanded Booth #7615 to explore GTC's growing lineup of globally recognized brands.

"At Global Tableware Collective, we're focused on building a portfolio of brands that bring distinct perspectives to the tabletop while expanding their reach under one unified platform," said Dino Mitsos, Vice President and General Manager of Global Tableware Collective. "In our second year at the show, we're excited to showcase not only the strength of our existing portfolio, but also the new brands that continue to shape our growth."

This year, GTC will introduce several new brand partnerships, further expanding its reach across tabletop and buffet. Additions include ZEPE, bringing functional and design-forward service carts; Zieher, offering elevated buffet and presentation solutions; and Narumi, known for its refined bone china and heritage craftsmanship.

At the center of the booth is Stölzle Lausitz, GTC's cornerstone glassware brand, recognized for its exceptional clarity, durability, and refined design. Alongside it, visitors will discover a diverse mix of tabletop solutions across the portfolio, including Bonna's premium porcelain, Mesa Ceramics' modern stoneware, G. Benedikt's functional and timeless designs, Dalebrook's trend-forward melamine and buffet solutions, Patra's refined porcelain collections, and Comas' expertly crafted flatware.

With a larger presence and an expanded assortment, GTC continues to build a platform that brings together unique brands from around the world, offering operators more ways to create distinctive tabletop experiences.

Attendees are encouraged to visit Booth #7615 to meet the team, explore the collections, and discover what's new from Global Tableware Collective.
