

Vigna Law Group: Life After Amputation Explained by Amputee/Prosthetist, Cary Frounfelter

LOS ANGELES, CA, UNITED STATES, May 6, 2026

/EINPresswire.com/ -- "Among individuals who have suffered traumatic limb loss, recovery starts with pre-prosthetic training, education with a talented prosthetist, and prosthetic training. Cary Frounfelter, prosthetist and amputee, explains the path," states Greg Vigna, MD, JD, Vigna Law Group.

Greg Vigna, MD, JD, national pharmaceutical injury attorney, states "I learned early on, as a Board-Certified Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation specialist, that amputation recovery starts with pre-prosthetic training and education on the necessary steps required to maximize function. Cary Frounfelter, an amputee and prosthetist, is a man doing God's work, and he does so for children and adults who have suffered serious injury and illness resulting in limb loss. He brings a perspective on prosthetic management that needs to be shared."

Dr. Vigna explains, "The lifetime cost of prosthetic management is substantial. This type of injury is often seen in 18-wheeler litigation, as well as in explosion and electrocution cases. The litigation starts at the accident scene and must be pursued aggressively, as evidence of liability involving commercial vehicles and 18-wheeler collisions may be lost over time if not secured."

Dr. Vigna is a California lawyer and Board-Certified Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation physician who focuses on catastrophic neurological injuries, amputation, and other serious injuries, and he maintains a national litigation practice. He is a Board Certified Physician in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, a life care planner, and an expert on spinal cord injury, cerebral palsy, cauda equina syndrome, stroke, amputation, and traumatic brain injury.
