

WebtrixPro Launches New Website and Earns 10 Clutch AI Badges in Florida

Hollywood, FL AI agency debuts redesigned website and earns top Clutch recognition across 10 categories for AI and software excellence.

FL, UNITED STATES, May 6, 2026
/EINPresswire.com/ -- WebtrixPro, a boutique AI-powered software development and technology consulting agency headquartered in Hollywood, Florida, today announced the launch of its redesigned website at webtrixpro.com, alongside recognition by Clutch with 10 industry badges for 2025.

These badges belong to our clients as much as they belong to us. Every recognition from Clutch is backed by a client who described what actually changed for their business."

WebtrixPro*

New Website Built With the Company's Own Process

The redesigned webtrixpro.com was developed using WebtrixPro's own 5-step Proven Process - the same methodology applied to every client engagement. Starting with a discovery and alignment phase, the site was designed and built in distinct phases with review cycles at every stage.

The website features a clear overview of all four service lines - AI Agents Development, Technology Strategy

Consulting, Mobile App Development, and Web App Development - along with the company's delivery methodology, client outcomes, and a direct path to scheduling a free 30-minute Discovery Call.

"We applied our own process to building our own website - a system with a clear purpose, a defined audience, and measurement built in from day one. We didn't hand it off and disappear after launch. We're already optimising based on real usage data." - Assaf Shami, CEO & Founder, WebtrixPro

10 Clutch Badges: Industry Recognition Across AI and Software

WebtrixPro has been recognised by Clutch, the leading global B2B research and reviews platform, with 10 badges across distinct categories for 2025. Clutch's methodology is grounded in verified client interviews, independent research, and documented project performance data.

The 10 badges include:

- Top AI Consulting Company - Florida
- Top Generative AI Company - Florida
- Top Artificial Intelligence Company - Florida
- Top App Development Company - Supply Chain, Logistics and Transport
- Top App Development Company - Advertising and Marketing
- Top Software Developers - Automotive
- Top Software Developers - Hospitality
- Top Software Developers - Legal
- Top Software Developers - Retail
- Top Software Developers - Advertising and Marketing

"These badges belong to our clients as much as they belong to us. Every recognition from Clutch is backed by a client who described, in their own words, what changed for their business. That's the standard we hold ourselves to - not what we promised, but what actually changed." - Assaf Shami, CEO & Founder, WebtrixPro

Proven Results for Mid-Market Businesses

WebtrixPro's client engagements have documented operational improvements including 30–60% reductions in operational bottlenecks, elimination of 20–35 manual labour hours per week per operations team, and system payback timelines of 60–90 days from go-live.

WebtrixPro - Top AI Consulting Company

Top Generative AI Company

The company specialises in AI agent systems for document intelligence, operations monitoring, communication automation, inventory management, and approval workflow automation - with a consistent focus on delivering measurable ROI rather than broad AI initiatives without clear business justification.
