

Kentucky Startup Launches Accessible AI-Powered Legislative Intelligence Platform

Small Startup Aims to Give Access to Groups of all Sizes, Democratize Public Affairs Technology

PADUCAH, KY, UNITED STATES, May 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- Ujoin today announced the launch of its groundbreaking legislative intelligence platform, one of the first solutions to deliver

Kory Payne

AI-powered bill tracking, analysis, and team collaboration across all 50 state legislatures and the United States federal government in a single unified interface. Designed for small citizen groups up to large nonprofits and companies, Ujoin transforms the way organizations monitor, understand, and act on legislation that affects their interests.

The platform addresses critical technology and accessibility gaps in the legislative intelligence market: tracking bills across 51 distinct legislative bodies — each with its own processes, terminology, timelines, and calendars — has historically required enormous manual effort, expensive lobbying relationships, or fragmented point solutions. Ujoin eliminates that complexity with a single solution.

KEY PLATFORM CAPABILITIES

Ujoin delivers a comprehensive suite of features built for modern policy and government affairs teams:

- Smart Search & Instant Alerts — Build sophisticated keyword, topic, sponsor, and committee searches that automatically surface matching bills the moment they are introduced or updated across any of the 51 legislative bodies. Teams receive real-time notifications ensuring no relevant legislation is ever missed.
- AI-Powered Legislative Analysis — Large language model technology reads and distills bill language, summarizing key provisions, identifying potential impacts, flagging ambiguities, and surfacing analogous legislation from other jurisdictions for benchmarking and comparison.
- Team Collaboration Workspace — Shared workspaces allow policy, legal, and government affairs teams to annotate bills, discuss potential business or regulatory impacts, assign action items, and build institutional knowledge directly within the platform — keeping all legislative intelligence organized and accessible.
- Status Change & Hearing Alerts — Automated, real-time notifications trigger whenever a tracked bill advances, is amended, passes a chamber, receives a governor's signature, or is scheduled for a committee hearing or floor vote — giving teams the lead time they need to act.

- Unified 50-State + Federal Coverage — Monitor legislation across all 50 state capitols and the U.S. Congress simultaneously, with normalized data structures that make it easy to compare legislative activity and trends across jurisdictions.

“For too long, the ability to stay ahead of the game in the policy arena meant that you had to have enormous budgets for legal, lobbying, and administrative services. We’ve used the best parts of AI to enable small, medium, and large organizations to quickly and easily find, understand, and act on legislation in real time”, said Kory Payne, Ujoin’s Founder and Head of Sales.
