Bayles, has been selected as Director of the Miles College Women's Business Center (MCWBC), a U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)-funded entrepreneurship program housed on the campus of Miles College in Fairfield, Alabama.

The selection, officially announced by Miles College, recognizes Bayles' more than 18 years of leadership in strategic management, tax strategy, entrepreneurship

The role further expands Bayles' work at the intersection of tax strategy, financial readiness, entrepreneurship education, and access to capital.

“This role is a natural extension of everything I have built and everything I believe,” said Bayles. “Through TMB Tax & Financial Services and Bankably™, my work has always centered on helping entrepreneurs build strong financial foundations. I look forward to building on the strong foundation already established at MCWBC and working alongside our partners to help entrepreneurs launch, grow, and scale sustainable businesses.”

Bayles brings a distinctive combination of practitioner expertise and community leadership to the role. She is the Founder and CEO of TMB Tax & Financial Services, B.C., a Birmingham-based Certified B Corporation tax strategy and financial advisory firm, and the creator of Bankably™, a financial readiness technology platform designed to help business owners strengthen financial documentation, improve tax compliance, and prepare for funding.
