

Ground Zero Intelligence Set to Launch $GZI Utility Token on May 13 as Demand Builds Around ProWebChat AI Ecosystem

High-Growth AI and Web3 Company Prepares to Launch Utility Token Designed to Power Product Adoption, User Rewards, and Ecosystem Expansion

CHEYENNE, WY, UNITED STATES, May 12, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- — Ground Zero Intelligence announced today that its highly anticipated \$GZI utility token will officially launch on Wednesday, May 13, 2026 at 11:45 AM ET, as the company accelerates expansion of its rapidly growing AI-powered business ecosystem anchored by ProWebChat.

The launch represents a major milestone for Ground Zero Intelligence as it combines artificial intelligence, customer automation, and Web3-powered utility into a scalable ecosystem designed to reward adoption, engagement, and long-term platform growth.

Industry attention surrounding AI-powered business automation continues to intensify, and Ground Zero Intelligence believes the combination of a live SaaS platform and utility-driven token infrastructure positions the company for aggressive expansion moving into the second half of 2026.

A Utility Token Backed by a Real Product:

Unlike speculative token launches that enter the market without working products or active utility, $GZI launches alongside ProWebChat — a live AI-powered platform already designed to help businesses:

$GZI Base Token Logo

- capture more leads
- increase conversions
- automate customer interaction
- reduce lost sales opportunities
- respond to customers instantly 24/7

Ground Zero Intelligence believes this product-first strategy creates a significantly stronger foundation for long-term ecosystem growth and utility expansion.

“Businesses are spending millions driving traffic online while losing customers every minute due to slow response times and outdated engagement systems,” said David Paolo, GZI CEO “ProWebChat solves that problem, and $GZI gives us the infrastructure to aggressively scale adoption, reward participation, and build a much larger AI ecosystem around real business utility.”

$GZI Positioned to Power Rapid Ecosystem Growth

The company confirmed that $GZI was specifically designed as a utility token intended for active use throughout the Ground Zero Intelligence ecosystem.

- Current and planned utility includes:
- ProWebChat subscription payments
- Premium AI feature access
- Reward and loyalty programs
- Referral incentives
- Future AI platform integrations
- Partner and affiliate ecosystem expansion

Ground Zero Intelligence expects utility to expand significantly as additional AI-driven products and automation tools are released.

Infinity Program and Viral Referral Engine Expected to Accelerate Adoption:

As part of the launch, Ground Zero Intelligence will activate its Infinity Program, a large-scale ecosystem rewards initiative supported by a dedicated token allocation designed to incentivize long-term participation and platform growth.

The company will also launch a high-impact referral system offering:

Ground Zero Intelligence believes the combination of AI utility and tokenized incentives creates a highly scalable user acquisition model.

Under the program:

- early adopters can earn milestone-based rewards
