

AWARD-WINNING LONGEVITY DOCUMENTARY FOREVER YOUNG NOW AVAILABLE FOR PREORDER ON APPLE TV

Directed by David Donnelly, the Mill Valley Film Festival audience award winner brings leading longevity science to viewers beginning May 26

CHICAGO, IL, UNITED STATES, May 18, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- FOREVER YOUNG, the new documentary from writer-director David Donnelly (Maestro, The Cost of Convenience), is now available for preorder for US$19.99 on Apple TV ahead of its May 26, 2026 release.

Can we live forever is one question. But what I became very interested in is: can we build a world where we want to live forever?"

David Donnelly

Forever Young takes audiences inside the laboratories where scientists are dismantling one of humanity's oldest certainties: that aging is inevitable. For the first time in history, researchers can measure biological age, slow its progression, and in some cases reverse it. Through extraordinary access to the world's leading longevity scientists — including Dr. Eric Verdin (Buck Institute), Dr. Nir Barzilai (Einstein College of Medicine), Dr. Steve Horvath (creator of the epigenetic clock), Dr. Richard Miller (University of Michigan), and Dr. Jennifer Garrison (Buck Institute) — the film captures a genuine scientific revolution accelerated by artificial intelligence, and the fierce controversies it has ignited.

But Forever Young refuses to stop at the science. As the breakthroughs mount, deeper questions emerge: Who will have access to a longer life? What happens to love, purpose, and meaning when death is no longer inevitable? The film's most powerful revelations have nothing to do with technology at all.

Forever Young premiered at the Mill Valley Film Festival in October 2025 and received the Active Cinema Audience Award.
