

B2i Digital Announces Precious Metals & Critical Minerals Hybrid Conference, May 21, 2026

Co-Sponsored by The Nuvo Group, Featuring a Keynote From CPM Group's Jeff Christian and a Curated Lineup of Producers, Developers, and Exploration-Stage Issuers

NEW YORK, NY, UNITED STATES, May 18, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- B2i Digital, the Capital Markets MatchmakerSM, today announced the Precious Metals & Critical Minerals Hybrid Conference, taking place Thursday, May 21, 2026, at OTC Markets Headquarters in Manhattan with a simultaneous live broadcast to investors around the world.

Hybrid Event at OTC Markets Headquarters in Manhattan With Simultaneous Live Online Broadcast to a Global Investor Audience

The conference is co-sponsored by The Nuvo Group, in collaboration with The Prospector Resource Investment News, Resource World Magazine, and the Society for Mining, Metallurgy & Exploration (SME).

Adding the in-person layer on top of what VIC already does virtually just gives both audiences a better experience."

David Shapiro, CEO of B2i Digital, Inc.

The day opens with a keynote from Jeff Christian, Managing Partner of CPM Group, titled The Bullish Outlook For Precious Metals, followed by public companies presenting across gold, silver, copper, nickel, cobalt, lithium, rare earths, titanium, and phosphate. The lineup spans senior producers, mid-tier developers, and exploration-stage issuers.

The hybrid format pairs in-person institutional investor access in Manhattan with a live virtual broadcast to a global audience, supported by structured 1x1 meeting requests through the conference platform.

“What I like about a hybrid event is that it doesn’t ask anyone to choose. Investors who can be in Manhattan walk in and meet management face to face. Investors anywhere else in the world get the same content live the same day. Adding the in-person layer on top of what VIC already does virtually just gives both audiences a better experience,” said David Shapiro, CEO of B2i Digital.

The Nuvo Group, a New York-based provider of financial printing, SEC/EDGAR filing, proxy design, and shareholder communications services, joined the conference as co-sponsor.

“Most of the companies presenting at this conference are exactly the kind of issuers we work with every day, public companies navigating SEC filings, proxy season, and the constant communication demands of the capital markets,” said Tony Barletta, Managing Partner of The Nuvo Group. “Mining and critical minerals is moving fast right now, and giving these management teams a direct line to institutional and retail investors is something we wanted to get behind.”
