workplace intelligence platform Othership today announced a significant expansion of its bookable workspaces network from 500 across 13 countries to over 5,000 across 120 countries. This integration will support Othership's global growth and its ambition to become a comprehensive workplace solution for both distributed organizations and remote professionals. Originally launched in the UK and Europe, the platform provides easy access to convenient, comfortable, and reliable workspaces for professionals worldwide, while enabling organizations to coordinate their hybrid and traveling workforce.

"With the addition of 4,500 venues on the platform, Othership's Workspace Finder will allow organizations to accommodate their hybrid and traveling workers around the world," said Othership founder Arnaud Mardegan. "Beyond on-demand workspace access, Othership also delivers a comprehensive workplace intelligence solution that gives organizations real visibility into their office spaces and how their teams operate, transforming fragmented data into clear insights that inform better decisions about real estate, workforce strategy, and people policies."

Othership has begun adding the new venues to its network in phases, with testing underway this month to ensure seamless integration. Selected venues will be officially launched on Othership's online platform beginning in the UK, with gradual expansion to the U.S. and Canada. Each location will feature a dedicated listing with a venue description, location details, and pricing.

Combining a Workspace Finder solution for hybrid and traveling professionals and a Workplace Manager solution for organizations with in-office and distributed workforces, Othership significantly improves workspace and workforce management. The platform enables smarter planning, reduces unused space, enhances sustainability and productivity, and helps reshape offices to prioritize connection and collaboration.
