Framing the World

We hope to recognize photographers whose images remind audiences of the perspectives, emotions, and experiences that unite people around the world.”

Thomas Brandt, spokesperson of IAA

Continuing its vision of Framing the World, the 2026 Global Photography Awards recognizes photography as a universal visual language that preserves perspectives, captures meaningful moments, and shapes how audiences understand the world around them. As culture, technology, and human connection continue to evolve globally, the competition celebrates photographers whose imagery reflects the depth and diversity of contemporary life — from intimate human experiences and cultural narratives to nature, architecture, wildlife, documentary, and fine art photography. Through every frame, GPA honors visual storytelling that transcends borders, inspires connection, and reveals the world through distinct creative perspectives.

“Photography has the unique ability to connect people without the need for translation,” said Thomas Brandt, spokesperson of IAA. “We hope to recognize photographers whose images remind audiences of the perspectives, emotions, and experiences that unite people around the world. Every photograph holds the potential to create understanding through visual storytelling.”

A Global Platform for Visual Excellence

The Global Photography Awards continues its mission of recognizing photography that leaves a lasting impression across international audiences. Photography award winners will receive worldwide recognition through official announcements, media exposure, winner features, and curated showcases designed to celebrate outstanding visual achievement across diverse photographic disciplines.
