

PF Modular Awarded Place on ESPO Framework 953_26 Modular Buildings

PF Modular secures place on ESPO Framework 953_26, giving UK schools and public bodies compliant access to modular buildings.

HAMPSHIRE, UNITED KINGDOM, May

22, 2026 /EINPresswire.com/ -- PF Modular, the Hampshire-based bespoke modular classroom specialist, has been awarded a place on ESPO Framework 953_26 Modular Buildings — providing schools and public sector organisations across the UK with a fully compliant route to high-quality, purpose-built modular buildings.

The framework, administered by ESPO, runs from 23 April 2026 to 22 April 2028. It enables public bodies — including local authority schools, academy trusts, colleges and other public sector organisations — to procure modular buildings through a streamlined, compliant process, without the need for a separate full tender exercise.

PF Modular designs and builds bespoke modular classrooms tailored to each school's curriculum, layout and aesthetic. The company's buildings are designed to full UK Building Regulation standards, comply with DfE Building Bulletins BB93, BB101, BB103 and BB104, and can be finished with a wide range of exterior cladding — from brick slips and timber to render and composite panels — to blend seamlessly with existing school buildings.

This framework position gives public sector clients direct, compliant access to PF Modular's full range of services, including:

- Bespoke modular classrooms for any subject area, from science labs and music suites to SEND and early years spaces — fully designed to BB104 area guidelines for SEND and alternative provision
- New and refurbished modular buildings, offering significant cost savings versus traditional construction
- A complete turnkey service covering design, planning, groundworks, manufacture, installation and fit-out

- Sustainability-focused design incorporating solar PV, air source heat pumps, LED lighting and high-performance insulation
- Expert guidance on Permitted Development Rights and Building Regulations compliance

ESPO is a public sector owned professional buying organisation with over 40 years of experience providing procurement solutions to schools, local authorities and other public bodies. Its frameworks are free to access and offer a legally compliant route to market, with suppliers assessed during the procurement process for financial stability, track record and technical ability.

“One of the biggest challenges schools face when expanding their estate is navigating the procurement process — and this framework removes that barrier entirely. Being awarded a place on ESPO Framework 953_26 means that any school or public sector body in the country can now commission a bespoke, high-quality modular classroom from us through a simple, fully compliant route. We’ve been building modular classrooms for schools for many years, and we know how much pressure headteachers and business managers are under. This appointment is about making it easier for them to get the spaces they need, quickly and affordably, without compromising on quality.”

— Richard Crawford, Founder and Managing Director, PF Modular

Schools and public sector bodies wishing to procure modular buildings via the framework can contact PF Modular directly. Appointments can be made through either direct call-off or mini-competition, depending on project requirements.
